

Dear Parents,

This Week

The highlight of my week has certainly been the whole school performance of 'The Grumpy Sheep'. I smiled throughout the event, laughed frequently and was struck by several special moments when the love of Christmas was tangible in the children's actions. The children really communicated the real meaning of this special time of year. Many thanks to you all.

Parent Governor Election

Two nominations have been received for the parent governor post and ballot papers have gone out to each family. Please return by Monday.

Class News

Highlights of the week.

Oak Class: One more parent helper needed on Monday morning to walk with children to the post box to post letters to Father Christmas. Named carrier bag needed to put Christmas goodies in to take home please. Our highlight of the week, has got to be the Christmas play. Everyone in Oak worked so hard and we are very proud of them all! Everyone looked fantastic on the stage in their costumes. Well done.

Oak and Ash: Reading books will be collected in on Monday.

Ash Class: We've continued our vehicles topic learning poems and designing our own fantasy car inspired by Chitty Chitty Bang Bang!! The children had great fun imagining and describing helicopter propellers, sun parasols, skis and digger arms.

Dudley Class: Dudley have worked so hard this week. We are very impressed by how much effort they are putting into writing their newspaper reports, well done! Needless to say, the Christmas Play was wonderful. Everyone should be very proud.

Waller Class: This week we have been using all the tricks in our writer's tool kit to complete our Greek Myth. It has been an epic journey (like the Odyssey) looking at effective synonyms for said, powerful adverbs and emotion sentences to show how a character is feeling along with a fantastic battle scene with a terrifying monster.

We have also been making Christmas related things that I'm sure you will see more of next week. I would also like to say that the class had quite a challenge in the Christmas performance, (the poem in particular was difficult to perform because of the old fashioned language. A huge thank you for all the cakes and to those parents who helped at the cake sale.

Wise Class: In Wise Class this week we had a DT day creating our World War II Anderson shelters. The results were fantastic - with the children sharing great imagination and creativity. We also worked hard punctuating speech and planning our historical narrative stories that are set in the Blitz of 1940.
